

The Descendants of George Mollohan of (West) Virginia

Introduction

There are at least five descending genealogies numbering systems and three ascending genealogies numbering systems. The first system is called the Register System and was developed in 1870 by the New England Historic Genealogical Society. The second system is called the National Genealogical Society Quarterly (NGSQ) System (also known as the Modified Register System) and has been refined by the National Genealogical Society. This is the system used in this report.

The third system is called the Henry System. This is a system in which a digit or letter is added for each generation that a person represents, with his numerical value reflecting birth-order within each nuclear family--e.g. 1234 would indicate that the individual was the fourth child of his parent, who was the third child of their parent, who was the second child of the original ancestor. Any children over nine would have a letter, starting with "A" assigned instead of a number, the tenth child would be "A", the eleventh child would be "B", etc. The spouse of a descendant would have an "S" added to the descendant's number. The Henry System lists by generation or by family line. After all the descendants of the first child have been listed, the second child's descendants will be listed.

The fourth and fifth systems list the descendants in the same order as a Descendancy Chart, and are referred to as By Descendants or Family Line--in this, they are similar to the Henry System. The fourth numbering system lists in descendancy order while using the same ID as the Modified Register System. This system is called By Descendants, in Non-Sequential Order, or by generation. The fifth numbering system is called By Descendants, in Sequential Order and lists in descendancy order and uses a sequential numbering system.

Listing By Generation (Modified Register System) is the most common system. The starting individual is listed first as generation one, his children are listed as generation number two, his grand-children are listed as generation number three and so on. Each person is assigned an ID number by the computer in sequential order by generation. When listing By Generation, individuals are listed in numerical order. The superscript numbers reflect the generation. The numbers preceding the names are ID numbers, along with a Roman numeral indicating the birth-order within each nuclear family. A plus to the left of the ID number indicates that the individual will appear again as an adult. If there is no plus, then all that is known about that individual will appear at that location.

Foreword

In the summer of 1993, my daughter married a Mollohan. Since my mother had just gotten me interested in genealogy, I started playing around with my son-in-law's family tree. Shortly there after, I was introduced to Don Norman's Central West Virginia Families on computer disc. I almost fell over when I discovered how much information was available under Mollohan on these discs. I was so overwhelmed by the amount of information, that I just entered into my computer the direct ancestors of my son-in-law. I had no intention of imputing all of the information concerning the Mollohans from Don Norman's discs. Then, I found out from my son-in-law's aunt (Becky) that there was a Mollohan genealogist up in Morgantown, WV who had even more information on the Mollohans. Some time later in the summer of 1996, I visited James Harry Mollohan, Jr. at his home in Morgantown, WV. Mr. Mollohan graciously gave me a copy on computer disc of what he had entered into his computer up to that time. This file was entered into WordPerfect and not a dedicated genealogical computer program. It consisted of over 400 pages of information and Mr. Mollohan had not yet had time to input the information concerning the two daughters of George Mollohan. Unlike Don Norman and I, Mr. Mollohan did not stop following the descendants of the Mollohan women when they marry into another family. Don and I only list the children and their spouses of the Mollohan women when they marry into another family, and not their grandchildren, great-grandchildren, etc. However, Mr. Mollohan follows these allied families all the way down to the present, if he has the information. Amazing! With Mr. Mollohan's permission, I sent to Don Norman a copy of what I had received from Mr. Mollohan and Don has now incorporated this information into his file on the Mollohans which is now available on the Internet and has filled out the information that he had with the information that Mr. Mollohan provided on the allied families. Don Norman asked me to thank Mr. Mollohan and I would add my thanks at this time publicly. We all owe James Harry Mollohan, Jr. a tremendous debt, so thank you.

In the Spring of 1997, my son-in-law's father was talking with Congressman Alan B. Mollohan and he informed him that I had a Mollohan genealogy. Dave, Sr. did not know that I had only entered into my computer the direct ancestors of my son-in-law and not all the descendants of George Mollohan. I was thereby motivated to begin to complete my Mollohan genealogy on computer--I use Family Tree Maker for Windows 8.0, Everyone's Family Tree, Genealogical Information Manager. After that, I began to confirm the information that I had received from various sources by visiting numerous courthouses. Thus far, to date I have visited the following county courthouses and extracted all the birth, death, and marriage information on Mollohans from Barbour, Braxton, Calhoun, Clay, Fayette, Gilmer, Harrison, Kanawha, Lewis, Marion, Monongalia, Nicholas, Preston, Raleigh, Randolph, Roane, Taylor, Upshur, Webster, and Wood Counties in West Virginia, Cumberland and Oakland, MD, and Akron, Canton and Medina, OH. I have also been to Cabel County, WV, Boyd County, KY, Columbus, OH, and Vinton County, OH but have not extracted all of the information from those places yet. I still need to visit many more counties in WV as well as various counties in Ohio.

During the summer of 1998, I came across a book written by B. M. Mollohan, titled On The Waters Of The Elk: The Mollohan Family in Central West Virginia, at the West Virginia Archives and History Library in Charleston, WV. Although it had only a limited amount of new information that I did not already have, never-the-less it had some important information that was of great value and I have incorporated some of it in this work. If you can locate her book, it is worth looking at, for I have not included all of the information in my work.

Generation No. 1

1. George¹ Mollohan was born Abt. 1750 in County Sligo, Province of Connacht, Ireland, and died Abt. 1815 in Kanawha County, VA. He married Nancy Hanks Jones Abt. 1774 in VA, daughter of William Jones. She was born Abt. 1754 in County Kerry, Province of Munster, Ireland.

Notes for George Mollohan:

The Province of Connacht is the smallest and most westerly of the four provinces. It includes counties Galway, Mayo, Sligo, Roscommon and Leitrim.

The name of the province derives from the Connachta, the large tribal grouping which dominated the west and north of the island in the first few centuries A.D. They claimed descent from the mythical Conn, brother of Eogan, the ancestor of the rulers of Munster, the Eoghanachta. By far the most important of the Connachta were the Uí Néill, who ruled much of the northern and eastern parts of Ireland. The Uí Brion and the Uí Fiachra, offshoots of the southern Uí Néill based at Tara in Co. Meath were dynastic kings of Connacht from the fourth century down to the arrival of the Normans in the late twelfth century, when the entire territory was granted to the de Burgos. These were eventually completely assimilated into Gaelic culture, becoming the Mayo and Clanricard Burkes, and, in true Irish fashion, producing many offshoot families, among them Gibbons, Jennings and Philbin, all surnames still commonly found in Connacht.

Because of their remoteness and the relative poverty of the land, the counties of Connacht, together with Co. Clare, were excluded from the confiscations following the wars of the seventeenth century, and became a refuge of sorts for those dispossessed elsewhere. By the nineteenth century the region was densely populated and desperately poor, with the result that its people suffered disproportionately in the Famine and the mass emigration that followed.

County Sligo (Sligeach,) was created in 1579 and got its name from the principal town, which was in turn named after the river running through it: sligeach means "full of shells". The river is now known as the Garavogue.

Sligo is one of the most varied and beautiful counties in the country. Its wild Atlantic coastline is dotted with long sandy beaches, while inland are the spectacular Dartry and Ox mountains and the wooded tranquility of Lough Gill. The region is also rich in pre-historic remains, from the huge funeral mound on top of Knocknaree, reputed to be the burial place of Queen Maeve of Connacht, to the dramatic neolithic graveyards of Carrowmore and Carrowkeel.

Originally the territory was under the control of the MacDermots, whose power was usurped by the Norman de Burgos from the twelfth to the fourteenth centuries. It was then claimed by a branch of the O'Connors, who ruled under the patronage of the northern O'Donnells, and became known as the O'Connor Sligo.

The county is now inextricably linked with the name of W.B. Yeats, the Nobel prize-winning poet, who spent much of his boyhood here and immortalized its landscape and culture in his work.

Surnames associated with the county include O'Hara, O'Dowd, Waters, Hargadon, Killoran, Hart, Finan, Breheny and McSharry. Loughlin, Feeney, MacGovern, Gallagher and McGuinness are among the most popular surnames in the county.

George immigrated to the Colonies around 1770. It is unknown what port he arrived at, or where he came from before moving into Greenbrier County, VA. It is believed that he married Nancy sometime between 1770 and 1774.

In a document dictated by Charles Mollohan, grandson of George and Nancy Nancy (which is not signed, so its veracity is unknown), of which a photo copy was provided to this researcher by James Harry Mollohan, Jr. of Morgantown, WV. Charles states the following:

"My grandfather on my father's side was George Mollohan (perhaps originally was Monahan or Molyhan). He was from Ireland from the County Stigo, an uneducated man, who came to the United States about the year _____.

"My grandmother Agnes, or Nancy Jones before her marriage with George Mollohan, was an Irish woman who came from Ireland about the same time, from the County Kerry, when she was 16 years old. When she was quite a child she said the name of America had to her a pleasant sound and she determined in her mind when she became old enough she would come to America and so strong was her will and determination to do so that all the money given her by her parents to be spent in sociables and the like. She laid it by and refused to use the same for any purpose until she had enough to pay her way to America. A short time previous to her leaving, she made known her intentions to two of her comrades who also agreed to accompany her. When the time came to leave, one of the girls decided not to go, but the other was True to her word and while the ship was being loaded, she visited it with friends several times and just a short time before the ship weighed anchor, she and her friend went on board and secreted themselves and remained hidden until the ship was a day at sea. After she came to this country, she formed the acquaintance with George Mollohan and they were married on the _____ day of _____ in the year _____ in the County of _____ and State of Virginia by one _____ minister of the gospel. A certificate of this marriage is now in my possession. Both were catholics. My grandmother especially was a devoted catholic never laying herself down to sleep without saying her catholic prayers taught her in her childhood."

[Perhaps the descendants of Charles Mollohan, who moved to Kansas, still have this Marriage Certificate and can provide a copy of it, or at least inform us of the date and place of the marriage?]

After moving to Greenbrier County in 1793, George received a land grant on Sinking Creek in Greenbrier County in 1797.

Sometime before 1805, they moved to Skyles Creek in, what would become, Braxton County and is now in present day Webster County and settled near the Dodrills who lived on the Birch River near Boggs. The Skyles Creek joins the Birch River about 4 miles down river from Boggs, Webster County, WV just before the Birch River leaves Webster County for the last time and crosses into Braxton County, WV. Later, they sold that property and moved to the Holly River.

In the period between 1783 and 1786, George appears on the Greenbrier County Census List. In 1809, George appears on the Kanawha County Tax List, apparently living with his son, George. In 1810, he appears again, this time living with another son, James.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1810 Kanawha County, Virginia; Page 5, Line 5; Information from 1810 Census: George Molohan is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists one white male between age 16-26, one white male age 45 and over, one white female between age 16-26, one white female age 45 and over.

There is no record of when or where Nancy died but note the following:

"A tragedy not unlike that of Strange occurred about 1815.

George Mollohan who lived with his son, James, on Birch River, left one day to visit his son John, who resided about sixteen miles distant and near where Sutton now stands on the Little Kanawha; all within the present bounds of Braxton County.

About ten days after the old gentleman's departure, a settler from the Little Kanawha came to Birch River and James Mollohan inquired about his father. He was informed that Mr. Mollohan had not been at his son John's, nor had he, in coming over the path seen any trace of him. Moreover, John had requested the informant to tell his father to pay him a visit.

An unavailing search was immediately instituted for the missing man. The only trace ever found of him was his gloves placed in the forks of a bush, and, at no great distance, his horse feeding in the bottom lands. This incident is here given for the first time.

George Mollohan, settled in Greenbrier County, in 1780. (12)" (Source: by Lucullus Virgil McWhorter, William Elsey Connelley and J. P. Notes for Nancy Hanks Jones:

The Province of Munster (Mumhain) is the most southern of the provinces, consisting of counties Clare, Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Tipperary and Waterford. Its name derives from a pre-Christian goddess, Muma. Like the other provinces of Leinster and Ulster, the full English name incorporates the original Gaelic, together with the Norman suffix "-ster", which is related to the modern French terre, meaning "land".

In the divisions used before the arrival of the Normans, the province was divided into two, the northern kingdom of Thomond and the southern kingdom of Desmond, with the border running through the Slieve Luachra mountains. For centuries the Munster Eoghanachta dynasties - later to acquire such surnames as McCarthy, O'Sullivan and O'Connell - fought intermittent wars with the high kings based in Leinster, and with the O'Briens. After the coming of the Normans their power waned and the Butler and Fitzgerald families dominated the north and south of the province respectively.

Apart from the large towns of Cork, Waterford and Limerick, in the nineteenth century Munster was still a predominantly rural region, with a wide variation in prosperity, from the relatively fertile and wealthy areas of south Tipperary and east Cork, to the bare subsistence levels along the Atlantic coast in south Kerry and west Cork. It was these latter areas that suffered most in the Famine itself and in the great emigrant depopulation which followed.

Known as "the kingdom" to its inhabitants, County Kerry is one of the most singular places in Ireland, with rich farmlands in the north of the county and astonishingly beautiful mountains, Atlantic islands and peninsulas in the south.

The "Ciarrai", from whom the name of the county derives, invaded and occupied the region in early historical times. They claimed descent from Ciar, son of Fergus, a legendary king of Ulster. In the middle ages Kerry was divided between the kingdoms of Thomond in the north and Desmond in the south, dominated by the O'Briens and the McCarthys respectively. It was later dominated by the Norman Fitzgeralds.

Contrary to popular belief, Kerry did not suffer as badly as most other counties in the Great Famine, with a drop in population of 19% between 1841 and 1851. Most of the emigration from the county took place in the later decades of the nineteenth century and in the twentieth century; in the 125 years from 1841 to 1966, the population fell by 58%.

Surnames associated with the county include Fitzmaurice, O'Donoghue, O'Leary, Stack, Tangney, Teahon, McElligot, O'Connell and Sugrue. O'Sullivan, O'Connor, Shea, Murphy, McCarthy, Moriarty, Fitzgerald, O'Connell, Donoghue, Griffin are among the most popular surnames in the county.

Children of George Mollohan and Nancy Jones are:

- + 2 i. John² Mollohan, born Abt. 1775 in Sinking Creek, Greenbrier County, VA; died 1853 in Braxton County, VA.
- + 3 ii. Elizabeth Mollohan, born Abt. 1782 in Greenbrier County, VA; died Aft. 1860.
- + 4 iii. George Mollohan, Jr., born Abt. 1784; died March 1861.
- + 5 iv. James Mollohan, born June 11, 1787 in Greenbrier County, VA; died Abt. 1862.
- + 6 v. Margaret Hope Mollohan, born Abt. 1793 in Sinking Creek, Greenbrier County, VA; died December 09, 1876 in Braxton County, WV.

Generation No. 2

2. John² Mollohan (George¹) was born Abt. 1775 in Sinking Creek, Greenbrier County, VA, and died 1853 in Braxton County, VA. He married (1) Elizabeth [---?---] Abt. 1804 in VA. He married (2) Rachel Cutlip September 28, 1838 in Braxton County, VA (Source: Copied and Indexed by Mary Davis Atkinson, West Virginia Collection - Braxton County, Virginia, Marriage Book I, (Published by American Reference Publishers, Inc., Fort Worth, Texas 76116, Copyright 1968), Page 10.), daughter of Henry Cutlip and Mary Lewis. She was born Abt. 1798, and died Bef. 1850.

Notes for John Mollohan:

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1810 Randolph County, Virginia; Page 326, Line 4; Information from 1810 Census: John Molahan is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists two white males under ten years of age, one white male of sixteen and under twenty-five, one white female of sixteen and under twenty-five.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1820 Nicholas County, Virginia; Page 204, Line 24; Information from 1820 Census: John Molohon is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 2 white males of ten and under sixteen, 1 white male of forty-five and upwards, 1 white female of twenty-six and under forty-five, with 1 person engaged in Agriculture.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1830 Lewis County, Virginia; Page 247, Line 18; Information from 1830 Census: John Mollyhon is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 1 white male of twenty and under thirty, 1 white male of fifty and under sixty, 1 white female of fifty and under sixty, and 1 male slave under ten years of age, 1 female slave of thirty-six and under fifty-five.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1840 Braxton County, Virginia; Page 246, Line 24; Information from 1840 Census: John Molohan is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 1 white male of sixty and under seventy, 1 white female under five years of age, 1 white female of forty and under fifty, and 3 female slaves under ten years of age, number of persons in each family employed in agriculture was 1.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1850 Braxton County, Virginia; District #4; Page 203A; Dwelling 403; Family 403; conducted on September 3, 1850; Information from 1850 Census: John Mollohan is listed as head of household. John is age 75, male, farmer, value of real estate owned $2,800, and born in Virginia. Living with him are Elleander, age 10, female, and born in Virginia; Rosanna Coger, age 15, female, born in Virginia. The 1850 Slave Schedule indicates that John owned one slave; one 13 year old mulatto female.

Children of John Mollohan and Elizabeth [---?---] are:

- + 7 i. James F.³ Mollohan, born April 25, 1806 in Nicholas County, VA; died August 29, 1854 in Braxton County, VA.
- + 8 ii. George G. Mollohan, born Abt. 1808 in Kanawha County, VA; died Aft. 1850 in Braxton County, VA.

Child of John Mollohan and Rachel Cutlip is:

- + 9 i. Eleanor Ellen³ Mollohan, born Abt. 1840 in Nicholas County, VA.

3. Elizabeth² Mollohan (George¹) was born Abt. 1782 in Greenbrier County, VA, and died Aft. 1860. She married Joseph Brown October 29, 1807 in Bath County, VA, son of Joseph Brown and Hannah McAfferty. He was born Abt. 1780, and died Abt. 1847.

Notes for Elizabeth Mollohan:

According to B. M. Mollohan of Hacker Valley, WV in her book, "Josiah Brown is very elusive in the county records of Central West Virginia. His name appears on the 1810 census record of Virginia as living in Ohio County (Ohio County covered a large area in the Northwest corner of West Virginia in 1810). He is a difficult individual to trace because he is often referred to as Joseph Brown and, as there was indeed a Joseph Brown living in the area, one is never sure if the person being referred to is, in fact, Joseph or Josiah. In the History of Braxton County, Josiah is listed correctly as the father of one of his daughters, Hannah, but is listed incorrectly in another, Rachel, as Joseph."

However, my research has convinced me that Joseph is the correct name. The 1810 Federal Census for Ohio County lists a Josiah Brown with the following enumeration; 1 white male of ten and under fifteen, 1 white male of forty-five and over, 1 white female under ten years of age, 2 white females of sixteen and under twenty-five, 1 white female of forty-five and over. The individuals and ages indicated do not correspond to our subject, Joseph Brown.

On the other hand, the 1810 Federal Census for Kanawha County lists a Joseph Brown with the enumeration denoted below. This enumeration does correspond to our subject Joseph Brown if one assumes that another married couple, of the same age group, were living with them (a common occurrence at this time). Additionally, the 1810 Federal Census for Kanawha County lists another Joseph Brown, on page 124, with the following enumeration; 1 white male of ten and under fifteen, 1 white male of forty-five and over, 3 white female under ten years of age, 1 white female of ten and under fifteen, 2 white females of sixteen and under twenty-five, 1 white female of forty-five and over. This Joseph Brown is probably our subject Joseph Brown's father. Which would add confirmation to my conclusion.

Joseph is supposed to have settled first near Hacker Valley. He then moved to the Left Fork of the Holly River or at least bought property there. Joseph sold this property to his brother-in-law, James, and moved on the mountain near Replete. That area is now called Brown's Mountain in his honor.

Joseph and Elizabeth are probably buried in un-marked graves in the Brown Cemetery on Brown's Mountain. The Brown Cemetery is rather large for the area where it is located, containing about forty graves, most of them un-marked.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1810 Kanawha County, Virginia; Page 118, Line 7; Information from 1810 Census: Joseph Brown is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 2 white males of sixteen and under twenty-five, 1 white female under ten years of age, 2 white females of sixteen and under twenty-six.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1820 Nicholas County, Virginia; Page 207, Line 41; Information from 1820 Census: Joseph Brown is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 2 white males under ten years of age, 2 white males of ten and under sixteen, 1 white male of twenty-six and under forty-five, 3 white females under ten years of age, 1 white female ten and under sixteen, 1 white female of sixteen and under twenty-six, 1 white female of twenty-six and under forty-five, 1 person engaged in Agriculture.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1830 Nicholas County, Virginia; Page 173, Line 3; Information from 1830 Census: Joseph Brown is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 1 white male under five years of age, 2 white males of ten and under fifteen, 1 white male of fifteen and under twenty, 1 white male of forty and under fifty, 1 white female of five and under ten, 1 white female of ten and under fifteen, 1 white female of fifteen and under twenty, 1 white female of twenty and under thirty, 1 white female of forty and under fifty.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1840 Braxton County, Virginia; Page 239, Line 8; Information from 1840 Census: Joseph Brown is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 1 white male of ten and under fifteen, 1 white male of fifteen and under twenty, 2 white males of twenty and under thirty, 1 white male of fifty and under sixty, 1 white female of five and under ten, 1 white female of thirty and under forty, 1 white female of fifty and under sixty.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1850 Braxton County, Virginia; District #4; Page 179; Dwelling 78; Family 78; conducted on August 15, 1850; Information from 1850 Census: Elizabeth Brown is listed as head of household. Elizabeth is age 68, female, and born in Virginia. [Enumerated next in the census (Family 79) is Elizabeth's son Jeremiah Brown, indicating that Elizabeth is probably living with Jeremiah.]

In the 1860 Federal Census, Elizabeth is enumerated with her son, Joseph Brown. She is 78 years old, female, a "widow lady", and born in Greenbrier County.

Children of Elizabeth Mollohan and Joseph Brown are:

- 10 i. John P.³ Brown, born Abt. 1810 in VA. He married Malinda McBain August 10, 1843 in Braxton County, VA; born Abt. 1822 in VA.
- 11 ii. Hannah Brown, born Abt. 1814 in Lewis County, VA. She married Lewis Cutlip August 02, 1837; born Abt. 1811 in Kanawha County, VA; died February 1884.
- 12 iii. George Brown, born Abt. 1816 in VA. He married Elizabeth Lough August 19, 1841; born Abt. 1820 in VA.
- 13 iv. Margaret Brown, born Abt. 1818. She married Jacob Westfall.
- 14 v. Rachel Brown, born Abt. 1820. She married Samuel Cutlip September 27, 1838; born Abt. 1820.
- 15 vi. Joseph D. Brown, born April 10, 1823 in Nicholas County, VA; died Abt. 1891. He married Louiza R. Schrader December 21, 1850; born Abt. 1829 in Randolph County, VA.
- 16 vii. Jeremiah Brown, born July 10, 1826 in Nicholas County, VA; died March 13, 1897. He married Sarah McCord November 17, 1845; born Abt. 1826 in Lewis County, VA.

4. George² Mollohan, Jr. (George¹) was born Abt. 1784, and died March 1861. He married Mary Dodrill July 01, 1805 in Kanawha County, VA (Source: WV, Kanawha County Courthouse Marriage Records, Early Marriage Records, Page 76.), daughter of William Dodrill and Rebecca Lewis. She was born Abt. 1784 in Greenbrier County, VA, and died Bef. 1860.

Notes for George Mollohan, Jr.:

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1810 Kanawha County, Virginia; Page 12, Line 1; Information from 1810 Census: George Molohan is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists one white male between age 16-26, two white females between age 0-10, and one white female between age 16-26.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1820 Nicholas County, Virginia; Page 204, Line 22; Information from 1820 Census: George Mollohon is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists 2 white males under ten years of age, 2 white males of sixteen and under twenty-six, 2 white males of twenty-six and under forty-five, 2 white females under ten years of age, 2 white females of ten and under sixteen, 1 white female of twenty-six and under forty-five, with 4 persons engaged in Agriculture.

George is age 78, male, farmer, value of real estate is $650, value of personal estate is $200, and born in Virginia.

George had two land grants given to him by Gov. John Tyler of VA. One was in 1826, for 150 acres on the north side of Elk River, the other was in 1832, for 250 acres on Mill Creek in Nicholas County. Mill Creek joins the Birch River at the town of Birch River. The land on the Elk River bordered the James Frame farm. This is the same Frame family that so many of the Mollohans married into.

George was a farmer, an avid hunter and an expert woodsman. His prowess as a hunter was described by Charles T. Dodrill in his family book, "Heritage of a Pioneer".

The following is excerpted from W. C. Dodrill's "Moccasins Tracks and Other Imprints":

"George Mollohan and Joshua Stephenson were devotees of the chase when great portions of Webster and Braxton Counties were a part of Nicholas. Most very seldom failed and game of all kinds was plentiful and in prime condition. These two men were brothers-in-law and spent much of their time in the woods.... Stephenson was not renowned for his bravery, but he was a very good hunter. These two men, in the month of November went to the head of Little Birch (River) to hunt. They had not hunted very long until a large bear was wounded. They thought they would make him furnish his own transportation up a very steep mountain. By throwing stones and barking like a dog, they drove him before them. When he showed fight, they let him rest for a while. In this way they reached the top of the mountain. Their surprise and chagrin can hardly be imagined when the bear suddenly vanished from their sight as if by magic. On investigation it was found that the bear had entered a cave, or den, where bears had been in the habit of hibernation during the winter. Mollohan at once began preparation to follow bruin into the subterranean cavern. He made a pine torch and told Stephenson to shoot the bear when he drove him out. There was a short turn about twenty-five feet from the entrance to the cave and in turning the angle the hunter was greeted with an angry growl. Before he could shoot the bear was upon him, and the torch was extinguished. There was not sufficient room for the bear to pass, and before Mollohan could reach the outer world, he was almost killed. There was scarcely an ounce of sound skin on his entire body. The flow of blood down his forehead almost blinded him. His clothing was torn to shreds. When Stephenson heard the fight begin, he became so frightened that he ran some distance and climbed a tall tree. It is needless to say that the bear made good his escape. Mollohan was carried home by sympathizing neighbors and lay in bed for a year. He went into the cave the following autumn and retrieved his hunting rifle. He, afterwards moved to Braxton County and cleared a large farm, becoming one of the best farmers in the community in which he lived."

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1860 Webster County, West Virginia; District Sand Run; Page 17; Dwelling 115; Family 115; conducted on July 3, 1860; Information from 1860 Census: James Mollahan is listed as head of household. James is age 73, male, farmer, value of real estate owned $1,000, value of personal property $80, and born in Greenbrier County, Virginia. Living with him are Martha, age 71, female, and born in Bath County, Virginia; Adam, age 34, male, born in Nicholas County, Virginia, idiot; Mary S. Wilson, age 14, female, domestic, born in Nicholas County, Virginia.

According to James Harry Mollohan, Jr., after the marriage of James and Martha, they settled near her parent's place on Birch River, Kanawha County, VA. They later moved to Little Kanawha River and then moved to, what is now, Webster County, WV, and finally settled on land they received via a land grant in 1819 near Caress, VA (now Braxton County, WV). Here they remained, raising a family. Both are buried in a family plot, on the farm, near the orchard.

However, according to B. M. Mollohan of Hacker Valley, WV in her book, after the marriage of James and Martha, they started their own home on a twenty-five acre tract of land on the Back Fork of the Elk River above Webster Springs. Being the children of pioneers, they soon turned their faces to the wilderness again, moving to the Back Fork of the Holly River in, what would become Northern Webster County.

On this property which James had bought from his brother-in-law, Josiah [Joseph] Brown, there was an excellent mill seat. Soon he constructed a log mill and dam on the site. This mill served the community until the entire structure was washed away in a flood during the 1850's. James was too old to consider rebuilding and the mill seat stood vacant at his death. In addition to being a miller, he was also a farmer and a shoemaker.

James and Mattie's home was on property known as the Old Mollohan place. The house set in the bottom some 100 feet from where the public road enters or crosses what is known as Hamrick Hollow.

When he was old and ill, James asked his family to load him into the sled and take him for a drive through the field near his home. During that drive, he pointed out the place where he wanted to be buried, on a bluff overlooking the waters of the Holly River at a point where it makes a sharp bend towards the north on it's way to join the Elk River at Holly. A few weeks later, James died.

6. Margaret Hope² Mollohan (George¹) was born Abt. 1793 in Sinking Creek, Greenbrier County, VA, and died December 09, 1876 in Braxton County, WV. She married Jacob Cogar March 21, 1819 in Nicholas County, VA (Source: Compiled by James S. & Evelyn E. Blake, Early Nicholas County (West) Virginia Marriage Bonds (& Records) 1818-1864, Page 65.), son of Peter Cogar and Mary McElwain. He was born Abt. 1790 in Botetourt County, VA, and died September 09, 1881 in Braxton County, WV.

Notes for Margaret Hope Mollohan:

According to James Harry Mollohan, Jr. of Morgantown, WV, Jacob and Margaret moved to the Little Kanawha River in what is now Braxton County, WV in 1836 where they spend the rest of their lives.

However, according to B. M. Mollohan of Hacker Valley, WV in her book, Jacob and Margaret lived for much of their married life in what is now Braxton County, probably in the Salt Lick area and were neighbors of Margaret's brother, John. Jacob's father, Peter, was said to be a veteran of the war of 1812.

Generation No. 3

7. James F.³ Mollohan (John², George¹) was born April 25, 1806 in Nicholas County, VA, and died August 29, 1854 in Braxton County, VA. He married Nancy Roberson February 15, 1833 in Lewis County, VA (Source: WV, Lewis County Courthouse Marriage Records, Vol. 3, Page 181.), daughter of Edward Roberson. She was born Abt. 1808 in VA, and died Aft. 1880 in OH.

Notes for James F. Mollohan:

James, along with his brother George, tried their hand at the Salt Shipping trade on the Little Kanawha River. During his lifetime, he was active in community affairs. He helped with appraisements and was always available when anyone needed help. He died of consumption and his widow, Nancy, who was born about 1808, was reported to have moved to Kentucky and later to Ohio. She was reported to have died in Ohio in 1892.

- 43 v. Marcus Lafayette Mollohan, born Abt. 1840 in VA; died May 31, 1864 in Chattanooga, TN.

Notes for Marcus Lafayette Mollohan:

Lafayette seems to have changed the spelling of his last name to Mollihan or Molihan after his mother left West Virginia with his brothers and sisters and moved first to Kentucky and then to Ohio.

Lafayette served on the Union side of the Civil War in Company B, 90th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment as a private. The 90th Ohio Infantry Regiment was organized on 29 August 1862 and was mustered out on 13 June 1865. This Regiment was involved in Sherman's march to the sea as well as the Battles of Chickamauga and Atlanta. Lafayette enlisted 26 August 1863, just before the Battle of Chickamauga. He died in the General Hospital in Chattanooga, TN on 31 May 1864 from acute diarrhea.

- 44 vi. Josiah Mollohan, born Abt. 1843 in VA.

Notes for Josiah Mollohan:

Josiah seems to have changed the spelling of his last name to Mollihan or Molihan after his mother left West Virginia with his brothers and sisters and moved first to Virginia and then to Ohio.

Josiah served on the Union side of the Civil War in Company A, 3rd West Virginia Cavalry as a private along with his brother Edward. Josiah enlisted on 17 December 1861 at Hamden, OH for three years. He and Edward reported to Camp Carlisle, VA on 23 December 1861 and on 24 December 1861 both brothers deserted. Josiah was arrested on 30 December 1861 and was charged by sentence of General Court Martial on 25 February 1862 per General Order No. 14. However, the records are not clear as to what the actual charge was, the sentence determined, or the punishment rendered.

Josiah deserted a second time on 6 May 1862 and was arrested by the Sheriff of Vinton County, OH on 26 June 1862 in Vinton County along with his brother Edward. He and Edward were transferred to Atheneum Military Prison in Wheeling, VA (WV) on 3 July 1862. He was listed as being 19 years of age, height 6 feet 3 inches, complexion fair, eyes blue, hair mouse color, occupation farmer. Josiah and Edward were sent to Washington City (DC) on 22 July 1862. Josiah was tried 20 October 1862 before a General Court Martial and found guilty of desertion, sentenced to forfeit all pay and allowances due him for the term of one year and hard labor in the Brooklyn Naval Yard. Josiah was transferred to the Brooklyn Naval Yard, however, the sentence was reprieved by Major General Sigel on 18 November 1862 and Josiah was returned to his unit.

Josiah was absent next in April 1863 when he was left in the Convalescent Camp at Pleasantons Landing, VA on 13 April 1863.

Companies A and B of the 3rd West Virginia Cavalry (commanded by Captain Seymour B. Conger) were attached to Second Brigade (commanded by Col. Thomas C. Devin), First Division (commanded by Brig. Gen. John Buford), Cavalry Corps (commanded by Maj. Gen. Alfred Pleasonton) at the Battle of Gettysburg, July 1-3, 1863. As the Cavalry Corps of the Union Army slowly pursued Lee's retreating Army south from the Battle of Gettysburg, Josiah was wounded in the shoulder at Falling Waters, WV on 14 July 1863. He was sent to the hospital in Frederick, MD. On 5 August Josiah wrote a letter to Col. Cheesborough in which he states "I have been under treatment at this Hospital since the 16th of July for a wound in my shoulder received at Falling Waters while in service with the 3rd Virginia Cavalry and as I shall not be fit for duty for a month, I respectfully solicit a furlough to visit my family in Vinton County, Ohio, where I learn my brother is laying dangerously ill." It appears that he was granted a ten day furlough starting 13 August 1863 and when he failed to report back as ordered on 24 August, he was reported as AWOL. It would appear that he returned (or was returned) since Josiah was transferred to Lincoln US Army General Hospital in Washington City (DC) on 18 October 1863. The official records also indicate that Josiah was listed as a deserter from the Lincoln US Army Hospital on 28 December 1863 when he failed again to return upon the expiration of furlough.

Josiah was discharged and mustered-out by virtue of re-enlistment as a Veteran Volunteer under the provisions of General Order #191 of Series 1863 of the War Department on 6 February 1864. He signed his Veteran Volunteer re-enlistment papers on 5 February 1864 and was assigned to his old unit. He was mustered into Company A, 3rd Reg't West Virginia Cavalry on 8 February 1864 and was given a 30 day furlough. Josiah was paid a $60.00 bounty for re-enlisting, $13.00 first months pay in advance, and $32.03 back pay. When Josiah failed again to return from furlough, he was charged with desertion on 9 March 1864.

Josiah was arrested in Vinton County, Ohio on 5 September 1864. Col. Thomas commanding Post Headquarters at Gallipolis, Ohio wrote the following to the Provost Marshall of 11th District Ohio at Ironton, Ohio on 9 September 1864;

"There is now confined in jail at this Post a notorious deserter and desperado by the name of Josiah Mollohan. Said Mollohan was arrested and brought to this Post by a squad of men belonging to the 192nd Reg't Pa. Vols. under the command of Lieut. John F. Snyder. The prisoner is subject to your order. Please notify me at once what disposition you wish made of him."

Josiah was transported to Columbus, Ohio and was received there on 22 September 1864. Was then transported to Atheneum Prison in Wheeling, WV and from there, to Cumberland, MD.

There is no record of Josiah being discharged.

His cousin, Arnold, also served in the 3rd but in Company M.

25. Charles³ Mollohan (James², George¹) was born November 11, 1810 in Nicholas County, VA, and died August 15, 1890 in Marion County, KS. He married Elizabeth Robinson March 21, 1833 in Nicholas County, VA, daughter of Henry Robinson. She was born October 25, 1810 in Pendleton County, VA, and died June 17, 1888 in Marion County, KS.

Notes for Charles Mollohan:

Charles and Elizabeth settled on land granted to them by Lord Fairfax. These lands were located on the waters of Holly Creek in what is now Webster County, WV.

On 6 July 1836, Charles was elected as a Justice of the Peace in Braxton County, VA. Charles also served as a Sheriff of Braxton County, VA. Concerning Charles serving as Sheriff, we find the following in Sutton's History of Braxton County on page 321:

"Charles Mollohan was a fearless man of unusual physical strength. On one occasion he had an execution [writ to serve] against John Wyatt, and the only property owned by Wyatt was a gray mare which he locked up in his stable, and refused to deliver her to the Sheriff. Mollohan undertook to pry the door off the wooden hinges with a piece of timber, when Wyatt came out with an axe for battle. After making some threats, he laid the axe down. Mollohan picked it up and said, 'Why John, this is the very thing I need.' and proceeded to cut off the wooden hinges of the door. He took the mare to Squire Morrison's and put her in pasture, and it wasn't long before Wyatt paid the debt and redeemed his property.

On another occasion, he went to collect a debt off Mr. _____, who was a very strong man, and a fighter. Mollohan found him at work in the field, and his coat laying close by. He picked up the coat and this very much enraged the man who threw down his hat, and prepared for battle. The Sheriff picked up his hat also and laughing at the man's predicament, walked off with his hat and coat."

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1840 Braxton County, Virginia; Page 246, Line 18; Information from 1840 Census: Charles Mollohan is listed as head of house. This enumeration lists one white male under age 5, one white male between age 15 and under 20, one white male between age 20 and under 30, two white females under age 5, one white female between age 5 and under 10, one white female between age 20 and under 30, number of persons in each family employed in agriculture was two.

Charles received his license to preach on 11 August 1849. At the second annual session of the Methodist Episcopal Conference at Clarksburg, Harrison County, VA on 10 October 1849, Charles was recommended for Deacons Orders and he became one of the most powerful preachers and laymen the Methodist Conference ever had. It was by his shrewdness and influence that held the church and missions together.

"AUDITOR'S OFFICE, Richmond, November 4, 1861.

Hon. J. P. BENJAMIN, Acting Secretary of War.

. . . The case of C. Mollohan, a resident of the State of Ohio, is another illustration of the fallacy of your doctrine. He had formerly been a preacher and resident of Virginia, preaching Abolitionism wherever he went. Such was his boldness in that respect that he was arrested under our laws against insurrection upon complaint of his own brother. After his release he moved to Ohio, and upon the breaking out of the war he returned as a spy upon our movements, and was arrested by the military authority and confined in the jail of Roanoke, from which he was released upon your orders because no witnesses appeared to testify against his crimes. Did humanity forbid his retention? . . ."

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. M. BENNETT."

George was sympathetic to the North during the Civil War, and it was while he and some Union Troops were eating at a friend's home near Sutton, WV during the summer of 1863, that the Tuning Brothers (a Confederate guerrilla group) and some others captured them. The following is from Sutton's History of Braxton County, pages 166-200:

"In the summer of 1863, a portion of Co. F, 10th W. Va. Volunteer Infantry, was on a scouting visit to their homes in Braxton county, a county from whence that stalwart company was recruited, and where 90 per cent or more of those noble and generous boys were born and raised. While at home, Captain Hyer and some of his men were captured by the Tuning brothers and others, who alternated between W. L. Jackson's camp and anything they could pick up within the Federal lines. The night that Captain Hyer was captured, he was at his home on Salt Lick, and had as his guests John D. Baxter, who was orderly sergeant of the company; Sergeant S. E. Knicely; private E. B. Wheeler and Wm. M. Barnett.

As well as we remember, this was the company at Captain Hyer's on the night of the attack and capture; George D. Mollohan, Harvey Hyer and M. L. Barnett, civilians, were either there on the night in question or captured in the immediate neighborhood and were present as prisoners when the attack was made. After several shots had been fired and a demand to surrender had been made, Captain Hyer thinking that the house would be fired and his family exposed and further resistance would be useless against the protest of Orderly Baxter and perhaps others, surrendered to a party, part of whom at least were thirsting for the blood of some of the inmates of that house.

We know little of the history of Tunings, but think they came from Tygart's valley, and settled on Salt Lick. Prior to the war, Jack, the one they called captain, was a very stout and rugged man, and it was said that the only time he ever met his match was when he fought the invincible Crawford Scott of Randolph county. The Tunings seemed somewhat vicious and vindictive in their nature, whether they had any special grievance growing out of the war that embittered them we know not; but early in the war they were known to be hostile and disposed to wage a guerilla warfare, and for that reason the commander of the post at Sutton sent Orderly Baxter with a squad of men to their residence on Salt Lick to confiscate some property. This order he obeyed as a soldier; . . .

Tunings, like a great many other people, not looking beyond the mere surface, nor comprehending the true cause, swore vengeance in their wrath against Orderly Baxter, and after the capture of Captain Hyer and his company, they gloated over the satisfaction they would have in subjecting the already doomed soldier to the indignities unworthy of our civilization, and later in the deep recesses and lonely glens of the mountains beyond Webster C. H., he was to be put to death like a savage or an outlaw. After the captain and his men surrendered, they were tried two and two and started on their march. The destination of some of the men were Libby prison; others were to be put to death. No one knew this better than the brave Baxter. . . .

The Confederates were composed of two Tunings, Jack and Al., F. F. Squires, and others whose names I have forgotten. . . .

The prisoners all being secured, the march was taken up near midnight for Wm. L. Jackson's camp in Pocahontas county. Baxter and Wheeler were tied together and Knicely and Barnett. . . . Baxter was a military man, a born genius; did nothing under excitement; stood 6 feet, 2 inches in height; weighed 180 pounds and was handsome and commanding in appearance. His determination was to get away from his captors or die in the attempt, and not be shot down like a savage or a dog. . . .

Baxter was to be taken through Webster county, tortured and shot, and possibly Wheeler was to share the same fate. The others were to be taken with an air of triumph to Jackson's camp. This to Tuning was a most fortunate and important military capture. He did not stand very high at Jackson's camp. . . .

The Tunings and their men were marching in triumphant splendor through the darkness with their prisoners and what booty they had succeeded in appropriating; at a point on the ridge near Ben's Run through a signal or sign, two of the couple communicated the fact that they had removed the cords by which they were tied, and at a place in the road that seemed to invite the attempt to escape, Baxter and Wheeler plunged into the brush, running in the same direction; Knicely and Barnett made a dash in the opposite direction. . . . Every shot went wild of its mark, and only acted as an incentive to excoriate the movements of those stalwart men who were winding down the brush and saplings as if they were but dry stubble, in their flight down the rugged hillsides of the Elk Valley. . . .

When Tunings realized that they had lost in a moment what they had long sought to win, and the great prize over which they felt so elated, their vengeance and anger knew no bounds. We were told by some of those who remained in captivity that they raged and swore, lamenting the escape of Baxter. They sullenly trudged on with occasional vile oaths and frequently threatened the lives of the other prisoners. George D. Mollohan, M. L. Barnett and Henry Hyer, the three civilian prisoners, after the exciting spectacular scenes of that midnight hour, were taken with the other prisoners to a point near the mouth of Brock's run on Holly river. There they halted to hold a war council and wait for daylight. There was a tide in the river and the only means of crossing was on a broken boat gunnel. At this point it was decided to release two of the prisoners, Hyer and Barnett. . . .

George D. Mollohan was taken to Richmond and the cruel treatment he received came near ending his life.

After the escape of Baxter, Knicely and Wheeler, Mr. Mollohan's hands were tied, also Barnett's. We do not know whether Capt. Hyer's hands or whether he as an officer was placed on his honor to remain a prisoner. After the halt at Brock's run, the march was resumed and the prisoners taken across Holly river. The Tunings were importuned to untie the cord that bound Mollohan's hands until the river was crossed, but they positively refused. To cross a stream on a piece of boat gunnel with your hands tied behind you is extremely hazardous. The river crossed in safety, the march was continued through Webster county to Jackson's camp; thence to Richmond and Libby prison.

In passing through Webster C. H., weary and footsore with the march, warmed up by the autumn sun, Mollohan's thirst was intensified by the sight of the pure crystal waters, but he was denied that slight privilege of appeasing his thirst, that to him would have been a blessing. The prisoners had one friend in the company of whom I wish to speak more particularly, because justice should be done to every man and he should have credit for his good acts, and a friend under these circumstances and in such trying need should be remembered and appreciated. F. F. Squires wanted Tunings to untie the cords that bound Mollohan while crossing the river and give him a chance for his life, in case that frail craft should sink or capsize but refused and on the march he frequently besought Tuning to grant decent treatment to the prisoners, but without effect. He confided with the prisoners and advised for their welfare, and through his influence saved them great and trying iniquities. He administered to their wants while in Jackson's camp."

It is not known how long George and his companions remained in prison before they were released and sent home, but it is believed that it was about a year.

Marriage Notes for George Mollohan and Permilia Alkire:

George and Milly's marriage ended in divorce. Since both the 1860 Federal Census and the 1870 Federal Census show George and Milly living on separate home sites and list each one as the head-of-household, they were probably separated before 1860. George and Milly were divorced May 27, 1868 in Braxton County, WV. George claimed that Milly had "willfully deserted and abandoned him more than 5 years" earlier (Source: WV, Braxton County Courthouse Chancery Order Book #2, Page 79).

Notes for Susan Wyatt Foster:

James Harry Mollohan, Jr. of Morgantown, WV and David Eugene Anderson of Bloomingdale, OH has Susan's last name as Weihart. I believe that she was a widow and that her maiden name was Foster, but I am not 100% sure. Mr. Anderson added the middle name of Wyatt.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1860 Webster County, West Virginia; District Sand Run; Page 17; Dwelling 114; Family 114; conducted on July 3, 1860; Information from 1860 Census: William H. Mollohan is listed as head of household. William is age 35, male, farmer, value of real estate owned $1,500, value of personal property $200, and born in Nicholas County, Virginia. Living with him are Malinda, age 34, female, and born in Nicholas County, Virginia; Mary J., age 11, female, born in Braxton County, Virginia; Martha A., age 9, female, born in Braxton County, Virginia; Samuel C., age 6, male, born in Braxton County, Virginia; Felix H., age 3, male, born in Braxton County, Virginia; Dennis P., age 1, male, born in Braxton County, Virginia.

William was elected on 24 May 1860 as a Justice of the Peace for the Holly District of the newly formed Webster County, VA.

William was serving as a Captain with Company G (also known as Capt. Mollohan's Co.), 9th Battalion (also known as Hansbrough's Battalion), of the CSA in the Civil War at the time of his death on 13 December 1861. This Battalion was the core unit that, with the addition of other companies, evolved into the 25th Virginia Infantry (also known as Heck's Regiment early in its life).

Hansbrough's Battalion was stationed at Camp Allegheny at this time. Camp Allegheny (elevation over 4,400 ft.) was in Pocahontas County very near the present-day village of Top of Allegheny and about 1.5 miles to the west of, what would become, the Virginia and West Virginia border at about where the present-day Route 250 crosses over the border. The camp was established in order to guard the gap through the mountains on the Parkersburg-Staunton Pike. This was important in order to safe-guard the rear of the Southern Armies in the Shenandoah Valley. At the same time, the Union forces established a camp to the southwest of White Top Mountain near the present-day village of Cheat Bridge in Randolph County. This camp was established on the Parkersburg-Staunton Pike to safe-guard the important rail line at Grafton from the Southern troops.

"In December, Confederate forces under Col. Edward Johnson occupied the summit of Allegheny Mountain to defend the Parkersburg-Staunton Pike. A Union force under Brig. Gen. Robert Milroy attacked Johnson on December 13. Fighting continued for much of the morning as each side maneuvered to gain the advantage. Finally, Milroy's troops were repulsed, and he retreated to his camps near Cheat Mountain. At year's end, Edward Johnson remained at Camp Allegheny with five regiments, and Henry Heth was at Lewisburg with two regiments." The estimated casualties were 137 on the Union side and 146 on the Southern side.

The following is a report from Lieutenant-Colonel Hansbrough to Colonel Johnson concerning the action in which William was killed.

"CAMP ALLEGHENY, December 16, 1861.

COLONEL: After the alarm about 4.30 a.m. on the 13th instant, pursuant to your orders my battalion was stationed in the woods on the hill above and to the right of our encampment. Scouts were sent out by me to the turnpike road below us and towards Varner's on the right. The Thirty-first Virginia, under command of Major Boykin, ordered to co-operate with us, did not come up, owing, I believe, to the impassableness of the blockade in the dark, and were several hundred yards to our left.

Soon after the dawn of day the scouts reported the approach of the enemy in strong force on the extreme right. Determining to feel the enemy with a view to test his strength and temper, I immediately advanced the battalion to meet him, and approached within 150 yards of where he was forming in line of battle a force at least ten times as numerous as mine. I sent a messenger to hurry up the Thirty-first, which was then not in sight, and then ordered the battalion to fire and fall back to meet the Thirty-first. The fire was delivered with coolness, and it is thought with considerable effect. Upon us falling back the enemy poured a volley of Minie balls, which, however, flew harmlessly over our heads.

Meeting the gallant Thirty-first advancing in fine spirits, my men rallied and returned vigorously to the charge. Their advance was retarded, not hindered, by the logs and brush of the blockade. The fight here was almost hand to hand, the roar of musketry was incessant and deafening, but above the roar rang the shouts of officers and men. It must be admitted that not much order was observed. The men fought on their own hook, each loading and firing as fast as possible. The Thirty-first and my battalion were mingled almost indiscriminately. No praise applied to the conduct of officers or men here engaged in battle can be justly deemed excessive. Where all behaved so well it may appear invidious to name any, but I cannot forbear to mention that the calm, the ardent courage and soldierly demeanor of Adj. C. S. Morgan and the dauntless conduct of the noble Capt. William H. Mollohan commanded the applause of every beholder. Lieutenants Robinson and Haymond, Sergeants Jarvis and Roder, and Privates Collins, Musgrave, Green, and scores of others deserve honorable mention.

Of my own personal knowledge I can say but little more, for here in this first charge, whilst descending from a log on which I had been standing for a moment urging the men forward to the charge, I was prostrated by a pistol ball, which entered my right thigh. In this condition I was borne off the field. The enemy was then recoiling before our fire. Their final discomfiture and retreat, after various vicissitudes, are known to you. Victory has once more been awarded to the defenders of the right, but we have to mourn many casualties. That gallant patriot and soldier Captain Mollohan sealed his devotion to the cause with his life's blood. Lieutenant Haymond was severely wounded. Our entire loss was 4 killed, 13 wounded (1 mortally and several severely), and 5 missing.

Respectfully,
G. W. HANSBROUGH,
Lieutenant-Colonel, Commanding Battalion.
Commanding, & c."

Arnold is age 30, male, farmer, value of personal estate owned $400, and born in Virginia. Living with him are Susan M., age 26, female, and born in Virginia; James M., age 4, male, born in Virginia.

Arnold was shot in the neck in battle at Lynchburg, Virginia, on 18 June 1864, while serving as a Corporal with Company M, 3rd WV Cavalry of the Union Army in the Civil War. This was a fatal wound which he died from in Gallipolis, Ohio on 11 July 1864.

"GENERAL REPORT

Report of Lieut. Gen. U.S. Grant, U.S. Army, commanding Armies of the United States, of operations March, 1864-May, 1865.

. . .The movement in the Kanawha and Shenandoah Valleys, under General Sigel, commenced on the 1st of May. General Crook, who had the immediate command of the Kanawha expedition, divided his forces into two columns, giving one, composed of cavalry, to General Averell. They crossed the mountains by separate routes. Averell struck the Tennessee and Virginia Railroad, near Wytheville, on the 10th, and proceeding to New River and Christiansburg, destroyed the road, several important bridges and depots, including New River bridge, forming a junction with Crook at Union on the 15th. General Sigel moved up the Shenandoah Valley, met the enemy at New Market on the 15th, and after a severe engagement was defeated with heavy loss, and retired behind Cedar Creek. Not regarding the operations of General Sigel as satisfactory, I asked his removal from command, and Major-General Hunter was appointed to supersede him. . . .

General Hunter immediately took up the offensive, and moving up the Shenandoah Valley, met the enemy on the 5th of June at Piedmont, and after a battle of ten hours routed and defeated him, capturing on the field of battle 1,500 men, 3 pieces of artillery, and 300 stand of small-arms. On the 8th of the same month he formed a junction with Crook and Averell at Staunton, from which place he moved direct on Lynchburg, via Lexington, which place he reached and invested on the 16th day of June. Up to this time he was very successful, and but for the difficulty of taking with him sufficient ordnance stores over so long a march through a hostile country he would no doubt have captured that (to the enemy) important point. The destruction of the enemy's supplies and manufactories was very great. To meet this movement under General Hunter, General Lee sent a force, perhaps equal to a corps, a part of which reached Lynchburg a short time before Hunter. After some skirmishing on the 17th and 18th, General Hunter, owing to a want of ammunition to give battle, retired from before the place. Unfortunately, this want of ammunition left him no choice of route for his return but by way of Kanawha. This lost to us the use of his troops for several weeks from the defense of the north. Had General Hunter moved by way of Charlottesville, instead of Lexington, as his instructions contemplated, he would have been in a position to have covered the Shenandoah Valley against the enemy, should the force he met have seemed to endanger it. If it did not, he would have been within easy distance of the James River Canal, on the main line of communication between Lynchburg and the force sent for its defense. I have never taken exception to the operations of General Hunter, and I am not now disposed to find fault with him, for I have no doubt he acted within what he conceived to be the spirit of his instructions and the interests of the service. The promptitude of his movements and his gallantry should entitle him to the commendation of his country.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT,
Lieutenant-General.

Hon. E. M. STANTON,
Secretary of War."

"From Lexington, Maj. Gen. David Hunter advanced against the Confederate rail and canal depots and the hospital complex at Lynchburg. Reaching the outskirts of town on June 17, his first tentative attacks were thwarted by the timely arrival by rail of Lt. Gen. Jubal A. Early's II Corps vanguard from Charlottesville. Hunter withdrew the next day after sporadic fighting because of a critical shortage of supplies. His line of retreat through West Virginia took his army out of the war for nearly a month and opened the Shenandoah Valley for a Confederate advance into Maryland. This Confederate victory resulted in estimated total casualties of 900. "

40. Edward R.⁴ Mollohan (James F.³, John², George¹) was born September 1830 in VA, and died Bet. 1900 - 1910 in Vinton County, OH. He married Margaret A. Ervin September 22, 1859 in Vinton County, OH (Source:

OH, Vinton County Courthouse Marriage Records, Pg. 0, No. 869.). She was born May 1837 in OH, and died December 19, 1918 in Vinton County, OH.

Notes for Edward R. Mollohan:

Edward seems to have changed the spelling of his last name to Mollihan or Molihan after his mother left West Virginia with his brothers and sisters and moved first to Virginia and then to Ohio.

Edward served on the Union side of the Civil War in Company A, 3rd West Virginia Cavalry as a private along with his brother Josiah. Edward enlisted on 10 December 1861 at Hamden, OH for three years. He reported to Camp Carlisle, VA and on 24 December 1861 deserted. Edward and Josiah were arrested by the Sheriff of Vinton County, OH on 26 June 1862 in Vinton County and sent to Atheneum Military Prison in Wheeling, VA. He was listed as being 32 years of age, height 5 feet 10 3/4 inches, complexion dark, eyes blue, hair dark, occupation farmer. Edward was sent to Washington, DC on 22 July 1862 with his brother Josiah. He "was tried 2 October 1862 before a General Court Martial and found guilty of desertion from on or about 24 December 1861 and sentenced to forfeit all pay and allowances due him for the term of seven months. Findings and sentence approved, (although the punishment to be inflicted is hardly severe enough for an offense of such enormity) by Major General Sigel, and promulgated in General Order #30, Headquarters, 11th Corps, Army of the Potomac on 10 October 1862."

At this time, Companies A and B of the 3rd West Virginia Cavalry (commanded by Captain Seymour B. Conger) were attached to the Headquarters of the GRAND RESERVE DIVISION commanded by Major-General Franz Sigel. This Division was comprised of the Eleventh and Twelfth Army Corps of the Army of the Potomac.

Edward received a gun shot wound to his left hand and injured his right eye on 22 October 1862 in a skirmish at Catlett Station, VA. Edward was captured and taken as a prisoner to Richmond, VA Libby Prison where he received some treatment for his injuries.

"HDQRS. ELEVENTH CORPS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Fairfax Court-House, October 25, 1862.

. . . A reconnoissance was sent out day before yesterday, under Captain Conger, Third Virginia Cavalry, by way of Davis' Ford, to Dumfries, Stafford Springs, and Warrenton Junction, with orders to return, by way of Catlett's Station and Bristoe Station, to Manassas Junction, where a detachment of the First Vermont Cavalry, under Captain Flint, was stationed, for Captain Conger's support. . . . At 4 p.m., Captain Conger, coming from Catlett's Station toward Bristoe Station, with about 40 men, was attacked about 2 miles south of Bristoe's Station by a force of 125 rebel cavalry, which he routed, his force returning by way of Manassas Junction to this place. This morning I am sorry to report that I lost the service of Captain Conger, his horse, during the fight, becoming disabled, and his brother (First Lieutenant Conger, of the Third Virginia Cavalry) and 1 man of the company only being missing [Edward?]. Twelve of the enemy's saddles, at least, have been emptied. We captured 2 prisoners and 3 horses. It seems that the enemy advanced from Warrenton Junction, with a strong force, to reconnoiter our advanced position, sending 150 men to Manassas Junction, and 125 men to Bristoe Station, the whole force evidently returning to Warrenton Junction. I have further learned from refugees and other reliable sources that the enemy has a force of 2,000 cavalry, consisting of the Second North Carolina, Seventh and Twelfth Virginia, a small detachment of infantry, with some artillery, at Warrenton. The strength of the infantry force is given variously from one company to two regiments. . . .

Major-General.

Major-General BANKS."

"FAIRFAX COURT-HOUSE,
October 27, 1862.

Captain Dahlgren, of my staff, returned from an expedition to Catlett's Station. He found the pickets of the enemy on the other side of Cedar Run, small patrols only having been lately to Greenwich and Bristoe.

Captain Conger, of the Third Virginia Cavalry, was seriously wounded in the engagement last Friday, and lies in a farm-house near Bristoe Station. Lieutenant Conger and 2 privates were taken prisoners and sent to Culpeper. Captain Conger fought with his small force (of about 30 men) a very strong force of the enemy (about 200). The enemy had 1 captain killed and 2 captains wounded, besides having 7 or 8 privates killed and quite a number wounded.

Generals BANKS and HEINTZELMAN"

Edward was paroled and sent to Wheeling, VA (WV) around 26 November 1862. He was then sent back to his unit where he continued to serve.

Companies A and B of the 3rd West Virginia Cavalry (commanded by Captain Seymour B. Conger) were attached to Second Brigade (commanded by Col. Thomas C. Devin), First Division (commanded by Brig. Gen. John Buford), Cavalry Corps (commanded by Maj. Gen. Alfred Pleasonton) at the Battle of Gettysburg, July 1-3, 1863.

Edward continued to serve until he was discharged on 25 January 1865. His cousin, Arnold, also served in the 3rd but in Company M.

Living with him is Susan C., wife, female, white, age 64, married 46 years, born in Ohio, cannot read or write.

For whatever the reason, Susan seemed determined to disassociate herself from any connection with Virginia or West Virginia or possibly, her Mollohan connection. This has made any researcher's degree of confidence questionable concerning the connection between the above Federal Census' extracts and the daughter of James Mollohan, Susan. However, in the 1870 Federal Census, Susan admits that she was born in Virginia (although she claims in every other census thereafter that she was born in Ohio) and in the 1910 Federal Census, she admits that her parents were born in West Virginia (although previously, she had claimed that they were born in Ohio). Accordingly, I believe that there is a reasonable basis for making this connection although it is not proven and genealogists should take this into account.

Children of Susan Mollohan and George Boring are:

- 214 i. George Lafayette⁵ Boring, born January 07, 1864; died August 12, 1898.

50. John H.⁴ Mollohan (George G.³, John², George¹) was born Abt. 1840 in Braxton County, VA. He married Ann Rebecca Hill December 20, 1863 in Randolph County, WV (Source: WV, Randolph County Courthouse Marriage Records, Vol. 3, Page 10.), daughter of John Hill and Sarah [---?---]. She was born February 15, 1845 in Randolph County, VA.

Notes for John H. Mollohan:

John was listed in the County Courthouse Records as a Silversmith and residing in Ohio.

I am not sure of the following, but it seems like the most likely explanation at this time;

John appears to have enlisted as a Sgt. in Captain Patrick B. Duffy's Co. (C), 9 Battalion Virginia Infantry (Hansbrough's Batt'n Light Infantry) of the CSA on 18 May 1861 in Sutton, Braxton County, VA for one year. John then deserted on returning from service to the Greenbrier River on 8 August 1861.

John then enlisted at Wheeling on 17 March 1862 (some records indicate 7 December 1861) and served as a private with D Company, 10th Reg. West Virginia Infantry Vols. on the Union side. At the time that he enlisted, he stated that he was residing in Weston and was 22 years old. He then re-enlisted as a veteran volunteer on 29 February 1864 in Beverly, WV and was transferred to Company B in March 1865. Medical records indicate that he was 5 feet 8 inches tall, had gray eyes and light hair, and that he was treated for gonorrhoea 4 June 1862; jaundice from 30 November to 1 December 1862; typhoid 10 May 1863. He was slightly wounded in the side at the Battle of Winchester, VA on 19 September 1864. He was captured at Cedar Creek 19 October 1864 and was brought from Knoxville, TN to Camp Chase, OH 6 May 1865 where he mustered out on June 29, 1865. He is on a list of unclaimed Union Civil War medals at the West Virginia State Archives.

John gave a statement on 28 January 1865, which listed his age as 20 and a resident of Braxton County, WV. John stated that he was arrested in April 1862 by Capt. William P. O'Brien of the 3rd Regiment Virginia State Line with a guard of 5 or 6 men and taken to Bath County where he was assigned to Co. H (Capt. O'Brien's Co.) 3rd Regiment VSL. The 3rd Regiment VSL was disbanded in March 1863 and was reorganized 11 April 1863 (along with a new company, Co. F: Capt McNeil's Co. from Pocahontas County which had previously served in the 2nd Regiment VSL) as the 19th Virginia Cavalry. John enlisted 1 May 1863 in Co. H (Capt. O'Brien's Co.) of the 19th Virginia Cavalry and served with them until he deserted on the night of 28 April 1864 escaping the vigilance of the pickets in the dark and walked 100 miles home. John was captured by Union forces in Clay County 12 May 1864 just 10 miles from his home. He was made a P.O.W. and held at the Atheneum Prison in Ohio until 10 June 1864 when he was sent to Camp Chase near Columbus, Ohio on 11 June 1864. John stated that he was 19 years of age, was 5 feet, 8 inches tall, light complexion, brown hair and hazel eyes, a farmer and resident of Clay County, WV. John was charged with being a bushwhacker and robber and was held until he took the oath of allegiance and was released 8 February 1865.

The Third Virginia State Line of nine companies was organized in 1862 and was composed of cavalry and Infantry. This regiment led in the State Line fight at Prestonsburg, Kentucky on December 4, 1862. Cavalry companies of this regiment were reported to total 230 men in January 1863 and its infantry companies included 290 men. At this time the regiment was stationed at Bath Alum Springs, Virginia. Most of the men of the 3rd Virginia State Line enlisted in Colonel William L. Jackson's 19th Virginia Cavalry on April 11, 1863.

Most of Company G - Captain William P. O'Brien's Company - later served in Company H, 19th Virginia Cavalry after the State Line disbanded. Several members of the unit were from Roane County in what is now West Virginia. Officers for this company were: Captain William P. O'Brien, 1st Lieutenant Henry G. Sampson, and 2nd Lieutenant Marcellus J. West.

He was taken prisoner in Braxton County on 6 June 1863 and was exchanged at City Pointe, Virginia. He rejoined his regiment on 21 June 1863. Harrison was wounded at Cedar Creek, Virginia on 13 October 1864 and at Hatchers Run, Virginia on 7 February 1865.

In a Declaration for the Increase of an Invalid Pension submitted on 30 August 1886 the following was declared:

"At the battle of Cedar Creek, Va., while crossing a stake and rider fence a shell struck at the lower rail and exploding threw the rail, himself and two other soldiers promiscuously and with such violence that it bruised him all over and strained every joint and muscle so that he could be turned only in a blanket and was sent to hospital at Winchester, and then Martinsburg, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Grafton for treatment.

At the same time he was also wounded by a piece of the shell in the calf of the left leg, and at the battle of Opequan a ball struck his haversack, which was resting against his left hip, and passing through the contents thereof and 288 pages of a book, injured the hip so that it has been subject to pain ever since; also at Hatchers Run he accidentally stumbled against the bayonet of a gun that lay concealed and tangled in briars and it passed through the left ankle, entering about three inches above the joint and coming out back of and below the same."

Notes for Ellis C. Mollohan:

I am not positive that the Ellis C. Molahan in the Lewis County Courthouse Marriage Records, and who's parents are listed as George and Milly Molahan is George Dodrill Mollohan and Permilla Alkire, but it seems to be the only connection at this time. Ellis was listed as being 27 years old at the time of his marriage and born in Braxton County, therefore he would have been born about 1856. Ellis may be a twin to Ann if this is correct.

Notes for Everett Samuel Bowyer:

I am not sure that the following individual is the E. Bowyer that is the son of Samuel Bowyer and Estaline Hettie Mollohan and who was enumerated in the 1900 Federal Census as living with Hettie's sister.

However, since that same sister and other family member are listed on the same page of the 1910 Federal Census, it seems likely that the following individual is the son of Samuel Bowyer and Estaline Hettie Mollohan. Therefore, this is the source of the full spelling of the first name and of the wife's information.

In the Chase County Historical Sketches, which was sent by e-mail to this researcher by Lorna Marvin, the following can be found:

"James and Mary Mollohan, their four sons and two daughters moved to Chase County near Wonsevu in the spring of 1903. Mr. Mollohan and two sons erected a tent on the unimproved land and at once set to the task of building a large barn with a temporary floor. When this was completed he returned to White City for his wife and daughters. The family lived in the barn. The children climbed a ladder to the hayloft for their bedroom. The two older sons came a year later and all moved into a newly constructed house. The family grew up in this roomy house with Mr. Mollohan's mother staying with them a good share of each year and the remaining part of the year with her daughter.

James and Mary, a school teacher, were married in Marion, Kansas and took their wedding trip on the first passenger train that traveled on the Marion-McPherson branch of the Santa Fe.

On their Chase County farm were two streams of water fed by many springs. Mr. Mollohan built cattle sheds, cribs, and granaries and fenced an adjoining feed lot with a small stream of very fresh water running through it. Here he fed cattle and hogs in winter. In summer cattle grazed on his pasture land. The virgin soil had not been broken up until his plows turned the soil into productive fields. Through the years the farmstead became well sheltered with shade trees and the yard was attractive with flowers and shrubs. An orchard grew nearby. This was their home until after their 56th wedding anniversary. For a few years they also had a home in Marion. Wonsevu, an inland settlement in the early 1900's had two general stores, a church and school of about fifty pupils with one teacher teaching eight grades. Mr. and Mrs. Mollohan were faithful workers in the church and were interested and active in community affairs."

252. Nathan French⁵ Mollohan (William Martin⁴, Nathan Curtis³, George², George¹) was born December 04, 1876, and died September 21, 1901 in Braxton County, WV. He married Minnie E. Gillespie May 03, 1899 in Clay County, WV (Source: WV, Clay County Courthouse Marriage Records, Vol. 3, Page 85.), daughter of Andrew Gillespie and Mahulda Rogers. She was born April 1877 in Braxton County, WV, and died 1905.

Notes for Nathan French Mollohan:

In the 1900 Federal Census, Nathan, Minnie and Ophie are enumerated as living with Nathan's father.

Children of Nathan Mollohan and Minnie Gillespie are:

- 725 i. Ophie Earle⁶ Mollohan, born March 28, 1900 in Braxton County, WV; died November 16, 1976 in Placer County, CA. He married Viola Lillian Fetzer April 16, 1940 in Cristobal, Canal Zone, Panama; born May 28, 1904 in OH; died July 12, 1985 in Sacramento County, CA.

Notes for Ophie Earle Mollohan:

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1910 Clay County, West Virginia; Otter District; Enumeration District No. 4; Page 2A/2; Dwelling 30; Family 30; conducted on April 15, 1910; Information from 1910 Census: Ophie Mollohan is enumerated as living with M????? Gillispie. M. Gillispie is listed as head of household dwelling on a farm which she owns free of a mortgage. M. Gillispie is, female, white, age 64, married 40 years, had 12 children of which 8 children are still living, born in Virginia, occupation is none. Living with her are Coleman B., son, male, white, age 35, single, born in West Virginia, occupation is working on his own account as a farmer on the home farm; Susan, daughter, female, white, age 27, single, had 1 child of which 1 child is still living, born in West Virginia, occupation is none; Scuilla, daughter, female, white, age 21, single, born in West Virginia, occupation is none; Ruby B., granddaughter, female, white, age 1 11/12, born in West Virginia; Opie Mollohan, grandson, male, white, age 10, single, born in West Virginia. Based on the 1900 Federal Census, I believe that M. Gillispie's first name is Mahulda. Although the first name of M. Gillispie in the 1910 Census above is very difficult to read, now that I have the name Mahulda from the 1900 Census, it looks like it might be the name in the 1910 Census. This would make the husband of Mahulda and the father of Minnie, Andrew Gillispie.

Ophie is listed in the "Roster of Men and Women Who Served in The World War From Colorado 1917-1918". It indicates that Ophie E. Mollohan was a private in the medical detachment branch of the U.S. Army stationed at Fort Morgan, Morgan County, CO.

FEDERAL CENSUS: 1920 Fayette County, West Virginia; Elk Ridge Precinct #14; Enumeration District No. 26; Page 7B; Dwelling 145; Family 145; conducted on January 8, 1920; Information from 1920 Census: William Mollohan is listed as head of household and renting a farm. William is male, white, age 29 [39?], married, born in West Virginia, occupation is timber cutter for a coal mine for wages. Living with him are Rushie M., wife, female, white, age 37, married, born in West Virginia; Chester M. Igo, adopted son, male, white, age 4 1/12, single, born in West Virginia; ??? D. Townsend, boarder, male, white, age 19, single, born in West Virginia, occupation timber cutter for coal mine; Lawrence S. Craig, boarder, male, white, age 18, single, born in Virginia, occupation timber cutter for coal mine.

The image for the above 1920 Federal Census is very poorly written and the writing is faded at points' throughout the image. Therefore, the above extract is partly conjecture and guesswork. For example, the census taker clearly wrote down that, William's age was 29. Rushie's name is very poorly written and faded. However, if my examination of the census, and my guess that the wife's name is "Rushie", is correct, then this is the only couple that the information corresponds to. This would be true only if the census taker made a typographical mistake when entering William's age - the census taker should of entered 39 instead 29. In support of my conjecture that this is the correct couple is the fact that, William's brother Samuel (and family) appears on the previous page of this census - Samuel is dwelling number 141 and William is dwelling number 145- therefore they were living near each other - and both of them and their boarders were all timber cutters for a coal mine.

Assuming that my conjecture is correct, this enables me to solve a long standing mystery and connect a missing link. Years ago I ran across a marriage for a Chester Mollohan in Charleston, WV County Courthouse Records. He was nineteen at the time of the marriage in 1933. Chester had a child in 1935 and the records indicate that Chester's middle name was Mark. None of the other Mollohan genealogy researchers, that I contacted, could make a connection for this individual. All of the above information fits remarkably well to the adopted son, Chester M. Igo, of William and Jerusha Mollohan. Accordingly, I have assumed this is the solution to this missing link and added this connection to this couple. Mollohan genealogy researchers should beware that this connection is conjecture and should take this into account.

"MOLLOHAN IS GUILTY - Director of Bluefield Bank Convicted of False Pretense -

"Edward Mollohan, of Washington, formerly a director in the defunct Fidelity Banking & Trust Co., of Bluefield, was convicted of false pretenses, after the jury had been out for about three hours. This was his second trial, the jury disagreeing on the former trial.

"The indictment against Mollohan charged that he borrowed funds from the Fidelity Bank at Bluefield, in which the state of West Virginia had $80,000 on deposit when it failed, and then, when the funds run low, in order to replenish them, Mollohan sold to Henry W. Woodward of Washington a certificate for $7,000 containing the statement that the same had been deposited in the bank.

"When the bank failed and the certificate was presented for payment it was rejected and the statement was made that there never had been such a deposit in the bank."

Notes for Charles Ivan Mollohan:

Ivan was a Timberman and operated sawmills throughout Braxton County. The following is a story printed in the Braxton Democrat-Central Newspaper On 9 August 1985, and written by Sheriff Given, Editor:

"Mr. Ivan Mollohan . . . lives in Clay County, Hoarse Ridge, gets his mail at Duck at Nottingham's store and votes in Servia in Braxton County, when they don't challenge his vote. After serving 15 months in the CCC's at Camp Cranberry, Camp Dyer and Camp Nicholas, he became Braxton County's best sawmill man. He can build any part of a sawmill from scratch. He timbered his own farm, 262 acres, located about 6 miles from Gassaway and then sold the land to Kenton Meadows Construction Co. He had the most modern and best sawmill in Braxton County. He had everything, a debarker, re-saws, sawdust silo, a class mill, all destroyed by fire in 1970. Ivan was part of the home front war from 1933 to 1936. It was the CCC's that waged war against poverty, closed factories, banks, etc. He was a barber and carpenter for the CCC's and helped build camps consisting of five barracks, 40 men to a barrack, 24 feet wide and 60 feet long. One administration building, mess hall, captain's quarters and supply house. In all, there were nine buildings to make up one CCC Camp. Ivan helped build Camps Dyer, Cranberry and Nicholas. Each camp had 200 men, 10 trucks, one road grader, a bull dozer and 5 or 6 pick up trucks. Camp Dyer was an original old soldier's home and was converted into a CCC camp. One original building still stands today. Besides being a camp carpenter, Ivan was also the camp barber, a job which paid him an extra five dollars more a month."

Ivan died while on a fishing trip.
